Course Description and Student Learning Outcomes: This course is designed to offer you a lens through which to view human nature and why it functions the way that it does. That lens is the psychological underpinnings of political life. The course objectives and student learning outcomes are as follows: A) Be able to understand micro-level processes that affect politics such as cognition, emotions and political attitudes as well as macro-level processes such as group behavior and societal influence. B) Have a general understanding of different ways to study political psychology empirically. C) Be able to analyze the competency and rationality of the American public when it comes to political decision-making, thinking and behavior. These learning outcomes will be assessed in Test I, Test II, Test III and the final paper (see below).

Attendance Policy: Attendance and participation counts towards 10% of your grade. This is NOT an insignificant amount and could affect what grade you receive. Attendance will be taken in the beginning of the semester to make sure that students are showing up, per the school's attendance verification policy.

Readings: Readings can be found in OAKS as well as the book Thinking Fast and Slow by Daniel Kahneman. Even though this book is a best-seller and easy to digest, most of the work in political psych comes from academic journals. I have tried to minimize these readings but some are unavoidable. I do not expect you to understand the statistics in these journal articles. However, you should comprehend what the studies did and how they went about their research generally. Readings will be covered on tests so I strongly recommend reading them on time and writing a short paragraph summary to study from instead of waiting until the night before a test and cramming them.

Exams: There are three exams instead of two. This means there will be less material on each.

Quizzes: There will be 6 very straightforward pop quizzes that will assess reading comprehension of that night's reading material. They are each worth 1 point- if you have done the reading, you'll smoke these quizzes. Any student who misses a quiz will receive a zero. There are no makeup quizzes but I will drop your lowest quiz grade so only your best 5 count.

Statement Paper: You will have one paper assignment due on the last day of class. For this paper you will need to use class material to make a final statement about whether the American public is politically competent and capable of making informed, rational decisions about political matters. More detailed instructions will be given later in the course.

Grading Scale for Final Semester Grades

100-94 A	79-77 C+	59-0 F
93-90 A-	76-74 C
89-87 B+	73-70 C-
86-84 B	69-67 D+
83-80 B-	66-60 D

Grading Breakdown by Percentage:

Test I: 20%	Final Paper: 25%
Test II: 20%	5 (best) Quizzes 5%
Test III: 20%	Participation: 10%

Late Assignments, Incompletes, Extensions and Make-Up Exams: Late assignments will be docked 5 percent per day (half letter grade), for each day that a project is late (including weekends). There will be no make-up exams and I will not grant incompletes in the course, except in cases of emergency or where university policy applies. Doctor's notes are expected for medical excuses. If you miss an exam without a valid excuse, you will receive a zero.

Office Hours: Having trouble? Have questions? Come on by. I promise it will be helpful.

Laptop Policy: No laptops in class. Trust me, you will learn more.

Syllabus Policy: I reserve the right to make changes to the syllabus if necessary.

Course Evaluation Statement: You will have the opportunity to evaluate the course towards the end of the semester through an online evaluation system from Wed. Nov 16th through Wed. Dec 14th.

COURSE POLICIES

Disabilities Accommodation Statement:

1. Any student eligible for and needing accommodations because of a disability is requested to speak with me during the first two weeks of class or as soon as the student has been approved for services so that reasonable accommodations can be arranged.
2. The College will make reasonable accommodations for persons with documented disabilities. Students should apply for services at the Center for Disability Services/SNAP located on the first floor of the Lightsey Center, Suite 104. Students approved for accommodations are responsible for notifying me as soon as possible and for contacting me one week before accommodation is needed.
3. This College abides by section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act. If you have a documented disability that may have some impact on your work in this class and for which you may require accommodations, please see an administrator at the Center of Disability Services/SNAP, (843) 953-1431 or me so that such accommodation may be arranged.

Academic Honesty Statement:

Lying, cheating, attempted cheating, and plagiarism are violations of our Honor Code that, when identified, are investigated. Each incident will be examined to determine the degree of deception involved.

Incidents where the instructor determines the student's actions are related more to a misunderstanding will be handled by the instructor. A written intervention designed to help prevent the student from repeating the error will be given to the student. The intervention, submitted by form and signed both by the instructor and the student, will be forwarded to the Dean of Students and placed in the student's file.

Cases of suspected academic dishonesty will be reported directly by the instructor and/or others having knowledge of the incident to the Dean of Students. A student found responsible by the Honor Board for academic dishonesty will receive a XF in the course, indicating failure of the course due to academic dishonesty. This grade will appear on the student's transcript for two years after which the student may petition for the X to be expunged. The F is permanent. The student may also be placed on disciplinary probation, suspended (temporary removal) or expelled (permanent removal) from the College by the Honor Board.

Students should be aware that unauthorized collaboration--working together without permission-- is a form of cheating. Unless the instructor specifies that students can work together on an assignment, quiz and/or test, no collaboration during the completion of the assignment is permitted. Other forms of cheating include possessing or using an unauthorized study aid (which could include accessing information via a cell phone or computer), copying from others' exams, fabricating data, and giving unauthorized assistance.

Research conducted and/or papers written for other classes cannot be used in whole or in part for any assignment in this class without obtaining prior permission from the instructor.

Students can find the complete Honor Code and all related processes in the Student Handbook at: <http://studentaffairs.cofc.edu/honorsystem/studenthandbook/index.php>

Center for Student Learning

I encourage you to utilize the Center for Student Learning's (CSL) academic support services for assistance in study strategies, speaking & writing skills, and course content. They offer tutoring, Supplemental Instruction, study skills appointments, and workshops. Students of all abilities have become more successful using these programs throughout their academic career and the services are available to you at no additional cost. For more information regarding these services please visit the CSL website at <http://csl.cofc.edu> or call (843)953-5635.
